ODDONE PRATI

Category: Cantine
business description: The Oddone family has been producing wines in Strevi since 1880. This passion and family tradition live on today in a modern winery.

Until 1985, the company, then covering approximately 5 hectares, was run by Ottavio Oddone and his son Osvaldo, producing wines such as Moscato, Brachetto, Barbera, Freisa, Dolcetto, and Passito di Moscato.
In 1997, Anna Oddone and her son Pierluigi Prati decided to invest more in the area, increasing the vineyard area to 45 hectares, continuing the traditional biodynamic approach to winemaking. Creating new blends designed to open up innovative avenues of taste, the Oddone Prati Winery was born.

In 2019, Ginevra, Pierluigi's daughter, joined the company, bringing innovation to production processes, communication, and launching initiatives in the tourism sector.
